UCSF Medal Awarded

The UCSF Medal, the highest honor of the campus, was awarded to five civic leaders and members of UCSF — Mr. and Mrs. Saul Epstein of Pacific Palisades, Mrs. Carlotta Fleming of Oakland, Nathan Malamud, MD and Frances A. Torrey, MD, both of San Francisco.

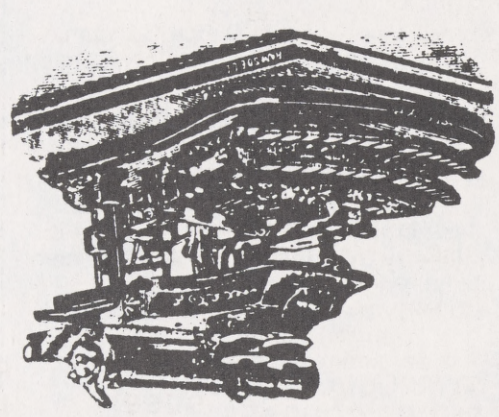
The medal is awarded for distinguished service to the campus and to the field of education and health care.

Dr. Torrey, UCSF clinical professor emeritus of Dermatology, was the first woman chair and professor of Dermatology and one of the first in the U.S. Chief of the Dermatology Clinic for 40 years, Torrey personally trained most of the older practicing dermatologists in the Bay Area.

Mrs. Fleming is the widow of Willard C. Fleming, UCSF Chancellor from 1966 to 1969 and dean of the School of Dentistry from 1939 to 1965. She has played an active role since 1924 in student and faculty relations, fund raising, and important patient service activities including the Cleft Palate Program.

Dr. Malamud, UCSF professor emeritus of Neuropathology and an international authority in this field, is a skillful and devoted teacher who has been with the campus for 35 years. He is former president of the American Association of Neuropathologists.

The Epsteins established the "Saul and Ida Epstein Otoneurological Laboratory" at UCSF in 1976. This is a complete electron microscopy facility, which, in conjunction with the Coleman Laboratories, is responsible for developing the cochlear implant, an electronic hearing device for the profoundly deaf.



Free Seminars by Novelists

A group of distinguished novelists will present a series of free seminars at UCSF on six Wednesday evenings in Millberry Union, 500 Parnassus Ave., April 22 to May 27.

Novelists Tillie Olsen, Thomas Sanchez, Bienvenido Santos, Hisaye Yamamoto and Al Young will read from their works, followed by a discussion with a panel of Bay Area and UCSF humanists and health scientists. The authors also will be available to autograph their own books during the afternoons in the Millberry Union Book Store.

Sponsored by Continuing Education in Health Sciences, the goal of the series is to help sensitize health practitioners and others, through the use of literature, to a culturally diverse society about feelings on illness, health and dying. For further information contact Velma Parness, 666-4728.

New Deans

Two new deans have been appointed at UCSF and one is returning from his post in Washington, D.C. John C. Greene has been appointed the new dean of the School of Dentistry. Former deputy surgeon general, and chief dental officer of the U.S. Public Health Service since 1978, Greene was selected in a nationwide search following the retirement of Ben W. Pavone in July.

The new dean of the Graduate Division is Lloyd N. Kozloff, replacing retiring dean Harold A. Harper. Kozloff, who was professor of Microbiology and Immunology at the University of Colorado and former associate dean for Faculty Affairs, was elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 1975.

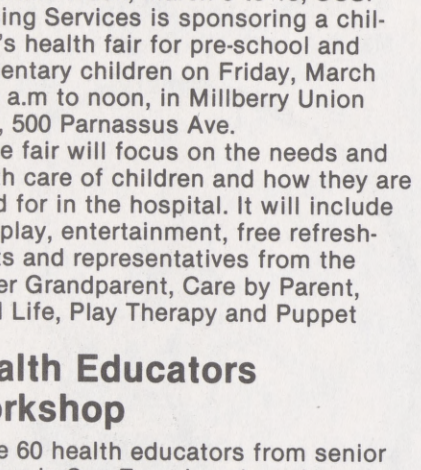
In addition, Jere Goyan has returned from his post as Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration and will resume his duties as dean of the School of Pharmacy on March 2. Goyan, who was on a 16 month leave, is a professor of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Chemistry. He has been dean since 1967. He was elected to a five-year term on the prestigious Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences in 1978, one of the first two pharmacy representatives to be elected.

MU Class Registration Apr 7

Millberry Union offers pre-school and children's classes including Ballet/Tap, Guitar and Tumbling and several adult classes including Family Massage. For further information call 666-1800.

Off-Duty Nurse Commended

Claudia Lamb, a resident of the Haight, and a nurse in UCSF's Pediatric Department, has been commended by Fire Chief Gaspar for her work in helping resuscitate an elderly heart attack victim on a downtown street. Lamb's quick and efficient actions were instrumental in saving a life – she is a credit to her profession, declared Gaspar. Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) is part of the training that nurses, doctors and others receive at UCSF.



It's a Beauty

A dozen trees are being planted on the south side of Parnassus in front of buildings at the western end of the campus. This is the first phase of a program which will eventually cover the entire Parnassus area and is part of the Campus Beautification Program. It is hoped that the trees also will act as a wind break and that the planters will serve as rest spots for the campus community and neighborhood. Money for the tree planting has come from contributions from various campus sources.

A special event planned for May or early June will involve the entire campus in flower planting and other beautification activities. The announcement will appear in the next issue of "To Our Neighbors."

Children's Health Fair - Mar 13

It will include a display, entertainment, free refreshments and representatives from the Foster Grandparent, Care by Parent, Child Life, Play Therapy and Puppet Therapy programs as well as nurses, doctors, dietitians, and pediatric dentists.

The National Children and Hospitals Week is being declared by the Association for Care of Children's Health. Registration is suggested for health care centers and school groups. For further information call 666-3206.

Health Educators Workshop

Some 60 health educators from senior centers in San Francisco have been invited to attend a UCSF workshop entitled, "Establishing an Environment for Success," on Tuesday, March 3.

This how-to workshop will give these educators ideas on improving health education programs through better methods of teaching.

Educators from the campus are scheduled to attend, and an audiotape will be made available for other educational purposes. The workshop is sponsored by Continuing Health Education Programs (CHEP) of the Department of Public Service Programs.
